CHRISTINA WAERING joined Länsförsäkringar in 2014 as Head of Legal Department, Non-Life Insurance, after having worked for 21 years at Setterwalls Advokatbyrå in Stockholm.

The position at Länsförsäkringar involves leading a team of 10 lawyers, who form a central business law support and service function for the entire Länsförsäkringar Group, consisting of 23 local insurance companies in Sweden as well as various centralized business units such as Motor & Home, Business, Health, Transport, Financial Lines and Reinsurance.

The team is involved in both litigation & arbitration and claims handling as well development of insurance products, all contracts & claims-aspects of reinsurance and compliance with laws over the entire field of non-life insurance. Since joining the team, Christina has been hands-on involved in all these areas including litigation with particular focus on major claims in the fields of property & casualty, business interruption, liability and product liability.

Christina also presides as chairman of an LF intra-group forum for legal evaluation of disputed recourse claims providing an ad hoc panel for local LF insurance companies producing written legal opinions and recommendations on how disputed recourse claim should be settled.

Over the years practicing law at Setterwalls Christina evolved into an experienced dispute resolution specialist, frequently engaged in both litigation before Swedish courts and international arbitration proceedings relating to insurance, reinsurance, energy, aviation & rail transport industries.

Between 2010 and 2014, Christina was endorsed as leading individual in the international law ranking institute Chambers Europe (Dispute Resolution) and Chambers Global (Dispute Resolution).
